Difference between Rem and Em.

EM is relative to the parent element's font size, so if you wish to scale the element's size based on its parent's size, use EM.

REM is relative to the root (HTML) font size, so if you wish to scale the element's size based on the root size, no matter what the parent size is, use REM. If you've used EM and are finding sizing issues due to lots of nested elements, REM will probably be the better choice.

List style position types

The list-style-position property specifies the position of the list-item markers (bullet points).

list-style-position: outside; means that the bullet points will be outside the list item.

The start of each line of a list item will be aligned vertically and this is the (default) list.

list-style-position: inside; means that the bullet points will be inside the list item. As it is part of the list item, it will be part of the text and push the text at the start.
